Online spaces Community Guidelines

This document applies to the following relevant spaces: Online learning platform (CANVAS) and community platform (Portal and Circle), as well as any tool and platform used for online and hybrid events (including but not limited to Youtube, Zoom, Slido, Kahoot, Menti) where online learner engagement takes place

General Principles

- Plagiarism: We take the integrity and authenticity of our learners' work very seriously. Do not copy or plagiarize internet content or the work of your online classmates. For content submitted with data from the internet, always reference your sources and ensure that your content is organic. Should you use AI to produce material, be sure to reference it.
- Be aware of cultural differences: Remember that members of the community may come from different cultures and backgrounds. Be respectful of these differences and avoid making assumptions or generalizations.
- No spamming or self-promotion: Do not post promotional content or spam messages.
- Posting relevant links or content is acceptable as long as it is not excessive nor aggressive.
- Keep it legal: Do not post any content that is illegal, promotes illegal activity, or violates any laws.
- Digital inclusivity: We believe that everyone has the right to a safe and respectful online environment, free from cyberbullying and other forms of digital abuse.
  Use of AI for good: as AI becomes increasingly present in our daily lives, commit to finding ways that can help you and your peers improve your workflow.

Do's

- Update your profile on The Room Portal: Name (please be sure to use your First name + Second name), profile picture (Put a picture of yourself not an avatar, a cartoon, or a symbol).
- Be nice and friendly to everyone & report any inappropriate behavior. Respect the code of conduct when addressing others.
- Please check the purpose of the channel you are posting on. You will be asked to repost if you are on the wrong channel.
- Post content that is aligned with our community values & expected behavior.
- When communicating with ALI staff, clearly state the message's objective and what you need.
- Practice patience when requesting support from ALI staff and your peers.
- Practice generosity and sharing your time and attention with the team.

Don’ts

- Plagiarizing assignments or milestones whether from the internet, peers,e or past learners.
- Publishing private information, such as a physical or email address, without their explicit permission.
- Perpetrate any public or private harassment, including but not limited to posting or sending sexual content.
- Trolling, insulting or derogatory comments, and personal or political attacks.
- Using channels as DMs - if you have to contact one person in particular or if you want to send greetings, it is better to bring the conversation in a private space, using DMs.
- Impersonate another member [by using the same nickname and picture].
- Spam or troll other members.
- Post any links to copyrighted material.
- Post unrelated content to the purpose of the channel: remember to check the channel description to know if your post would be pertinent.
- Share Whatsapp or Telegram group links.
- Ask for project reviews without appropriate description (ex. Posting the link only).\
- Share resources or any type of links without appropriate context.
- Other conduct which could reasonably be considered inappropriate in a professional setting.
